For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be asserted.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further,
that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases steamed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

fects immediate relief, checks the process, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufacture in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as in town.

Proposals

FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of Universal History Americanised;

Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.

BY DAVID RAMSAY, D. D.
Life is so short and time so valuable,
that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence." Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS.

The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.
The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Nubia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical
States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.
The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origins to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—
and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.
The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal, or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—
The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes;
of between four and five hundred pages
each—to be printed in Philadelphia,
on good paper and fair types, for 25 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or 24 1-3 Call Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.
This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1776, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that immense work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists,
the publications of intelligent travellers,
who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries copparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history, which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780,
when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business, and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison, then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

THE SUN AND SPRING.
Bright god of day, whose genial power,
Revives the buried seed,
That spreads with foliage every bowen,
With verdure every mead,
Bid all thy vernal breezes fly,
Diffusing mildness through the sky:
Give the soft season to our drooping plains:
Sprinkled with rosy dews, and salutary rains.

Enough has winter's hand severe
Hurled all his t-rows round,
Chilled the fair dawning of the year,
And whiten'd all the ground:
Give but thy vital beams to play,
The frozen scenes will melt away,
And mix'd in sprightly dance, the blooming hours
Will make the drowsy spring, and spring
awake the flowers.

Agricultural.

HINTS TO FARMERS.
As a necessary preparation of rye for sowing, observe the following directions: Salt is to be dissolved in water until an egg can swim. Then half as much more is to be added and the seed put to steeping—after 12 hours an ounce of alum to every gallon is to be put in, and the whole stand twelve hours longer; the liquor must be drawn off and the rye spread on the floor and covered thick with slack lime sifted upon it and stirred until the whole is impregnated therewith, after which it is to be immediately sown. It is said there is not much danger of rye's blasting if managed in this manner, except only from local causes, such as barberry bushes which ought to be eradicated from the borders of fields as they will surely bring a blast.

We have read of a farmer, who for some reason being obliged to be early sowed oats at break of day, and had harrowed all in before sunrise. He observed that the oats sown thus early, outstripped the other oats sown on the same day after the day was come on, grew taller, had a larger head, and appeared every way better, although that part of the land that was sowed early, if there was any difference, was the poorest side. Our author continues, it is agreeable to reason that it should do good. For the dews are impregnated with nitrous salts and is the principal thing which enriches the ground when it lies fallow; this dew being harrowed in with the seed may promote its growth. If the seed were sown in the evening so as to lie all night to be soaked and softened by the dew, and then be harrowed in in the morning, thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that; it may therefore be best to make trial of both ways.

BITTER PUMPKIN.

Messrs. Printers,
I received last fall, from a friend in Massachusetts, a bitter pumpkin, which I beg leave, through the medium of your paper, to introduce to those unacquainted with it, as a great curiosity.—It is as pure and bitter as quassia, and perhaps as intense. Its appearance is exactly like any pumpkin, and there is nothing to distinguish it either in its growth, or the ripe fruit, but the taste. It has been known in some parts of Massachusetts for two or three years, and perhaps for a longer period. I understand that it has been used as a stomachic in some instances, infused in spirit, but that its principal use has been as a substitute for hops in making beer. I had some doubts whether it would answer as a substitute in making yeast; but, from some trials which have been made, I am inclined to believe it will. If so, it is a vegetable of great value.—It is raised with but very little trouble and expense, and is a more certain crop than hops. I have never seen in any medical or botanical publication, any account of this pumpkin, nor did I know of its existence until within a few months past.

ALEXANDRIA: FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1816.

Baltimore, May 12.

The Circuit Court was employed the whole of yesterday in the trial of John Alexander, charged with robbing the mail and with using dangerous weapons which put in jeopardy the life of the driver who had the charge of the mail. He was ably defended by counsel. The jury retired about 5 o'clock, and after a consultation of about two hours found him GUILTY.

This day, Lewis Hara, who is only about twenty years of age, being the younger brother of John, was tried and also found guilty, on charges similar to those on which his elder brother and Alexander have been convicted. The jury expressed a wish that he should be recommended as a proper object of Executive clemency, and the Attorney General expressed his willingness to unite in the recommendation.

Baltimore, May 12.

FROM PORTO RICO.

Captain Isley, of the brig Eagle, arrived this morning in 17 days from Porto Rico, informs, that previous to his departure the governor of that island received despatches from Madrid, which induced a belief that war was about to take place between Spain and some other of the European powers; in consequence of which the inhabitants were heavily taxed for the purpose of placing the island in a suitable posture of defence.

One of the papers states it as a remarkable fact, that "out of the five presidents of the United States who have served since the organization of the general government only one has had a male issue. This one is Mr. Adams."

It is more remarkable that there is any body who knows this fact!

[Newburyport Herald.

From the Washington City Gaz. May 13.

Yesterday, in Georgetown, the cornerstone of an Episcopal Church, to be called Christ's Church, was laid with masonic honors, consisting of a procession from the lodge room of a respectable number of brethren from the lodges of the District, the clergymen of the several churches, and a vast concourse of the citizens of the town and neighborhood, accompanied by a band of music. Arrived at the spot, in Congress-street, and, after an appropriate prayer by the Rev Mr. Norris, the masonic ceremony of laying the corner stone commenced. At which grand master Kurz officiated. Gold, silver and copper coins, bearing the date of the present year, were deposited in the cavity, and a plate, with the name of the president of the United States, date, &c. was placed over them. The Rev. Mr. Wilmer then delivered an energetic and suitable discourse; the Rev. Mr. Hawley followed with a prayer, imploring the divine blessing and protection for the accomplishment and prosperity of the undertaking, and the ceremony concluded by a similar act of piety by Mr. Norris. The brethren then returned, in order, to the lodge, and partook of some refreshments prepared for the occasion. The whole was performed with dignity, reverence, and becoming solemnity.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

EAST INDIA TRADE.

The Virginia Banks in this city are curtailing transient paper 25 per cent. The Eastern Banks press upon them, and they upon their customers.—The India merchants press upon the Eastern Banks, and they upon those of the South.

The merchants who deal to the East Indies, require a considerable sum in specie, to carry on their operations. It is estimated by an intelligent merchant, that from Salem, Boston, New-York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, about 100 ships annually sail for the Indies. Each ship takes from 100,000 to 500,000 dollars in silver, their outfit being principally Spanish milled dollars. Put down, then, 10,000,000 of dollars each year, and the amount of silver exported, almost exceeds credibility.

A large portion of this sum is necessarily drawn from the banks.—During this East India season silver bears a premium in the market of 1 or 2 per cent. above gold.—It was but the other day that a principal New-York merchant, who deals largely in the East India trade, exchanged $800,000 in gold with Mr. Girard the banker of Philadelphia, for silver coin, at 1 per cent. discount.—The eastern banks being called on for specie, are under the necessity of calling in their notes, as well as nearly confining their payments to gold, instead of silver.

The East India trade thus annually sends out of the United States a large sum of silver. The drain must be made up from some other quarter.—And our banks are thus put to the expense of importing annually a quantity of specie to supply the vacuum.

Is there no danger that this East India trade itself will be overdone? that more goods will come to be imported than we can profitably dispose of? Such is the enterprise of our merchants and the general facilities of obtaining capital, furnished by our numerous banks, that we can engage in few branches of speculation which we do not carry into excess. Mr. Maclure used to amuse himself with an extravagant speculation, which was once carried on in New-York in water-melons. There are few cities in the Union, which have suffered more by over dealing than Richmond. The East India rage has not reached her; but may not other towns yet suffer by it?

That the English traders view our trade with the East Indies with some jealousy, is no secret to our merchants; but that they seriously meditate some restrictions upon our commerce, is apparent from the following extract of a letter, put into our hands, dated Liverpool, 21st February last:

"The Houses engaged in the East India trade are preparing to have a Bill brought into Parliament to limit the import of India Cotton to British ships direct from India. If this succeeds, it will reduce that branch of your carrying trade to what can be disposed of on the Continent. There is however no doubt that it will meet a strenuous opposition from the manufacturing interests; but we think it may be important to you to know of this intended proceeding early. The American trade are fully upon the watch to get as much time as possible (five or six months) to cover such shipments to this country as may be now in operation or contemplated. This they will endeavor to accomplish either by compromise with the supporters of the bill or by actual opposition; but in a question of British interests it would appear invidious to attempt any thing further."

Since writing the above, the mail (of last night) brings us an Essay in the Boston Gazette, which expresses much alarm at the present great and increasing trade to India.—The author makes the following remark:

"I would venture to hazard an opinion, that there is not as much specie in the banks of Boston (exclusive of special deposits) as will be shipped from here to India in one month—and what is to prevent all this from going away, if dollars can any where be purchased with it?"

From the Boston Gazette of May 6.

FROM EUROPE.

The political affairs of none of the nations of Europe, France excepted, present any interesting aspects.

The finances of France are represented by the Minister of Finance to be in a very embarrassed state. With an unusual freedom, he announces that the expenditures of the current year, after all the savings which can be made will exceed the contemplated revenue upwards of two hundred and twenty millions of francs, (more than forty-four millions of dollars).—That the supply of this large sum, had been obtained by loans; but in those had of Messrs. Barrings and Hoopes, (foreigners) there was a loss on the stock of more than 16 per cent. while there was a yet a still larger loss on the sum borrowed of the French House of Lafttel. The Minister boldly announces, that the most oppressive of the French burthen is the cautionary army. He expresses the hope, that it will be withdrawn the ensuing November; and pronounces, very emphatically, that France is exhausted; and that her sacrifices must cease, for the termination of her means had arrived.—Whether this statement be true, or whether launched as a rousse-de-politique to propitiate or alarm the Congress of allied Sovereigns, is not easy to say. The reclamations of France by the various nations spoliated by Buonaparte, were not included in the estimate of the Minister, as they had not been reported on. The amount has been stated at seventeen hundred millions of francs—which the minister pronounces an exaggeration. But adds, that the pendency of these claims "arrest the rising wing of credit and depress on peace itself the character of hostility." Many of these claims are unquestionably just, and the enforcement of them on France would not reduce her to a lower ebb, than she reduced Prussia, Hamburg, Holland, &c.; but, nevertheless, if France were able to make war, we are confident that one to resist these commands would be very popular.

The Congress of Sovereigns must, by treaty, be held the ensuing autumn. The Emperors of Russia and Austria, and the King of Prussia, will attend in person with their prime ministers; the British Sovereign will be represented by the Duke of Wellington and Lord Castlereagh; and Louis 18th by the Duke of Richelieu; other eminent ministers will attend from other courts. Appearances indicate that one of their first acts will be to declare the complete tranquillity of France, and that the necessity of confining the army of occupation no longer exists.

All the Powers of Europe have recognised King Joachim I.

From the Boston Daily Adver. May 6.

The states general of Sweden have presented to the new king an address, requesting that his coronation may take place during the period of their being assembled. The following is an extract from the reply of the king, in which he promises to comply with their request:

"GENTLEMEN,—If any thing could alleviate the profound grief into which I am plunged by the death of a monarch who had so much claim to our reverence, it would be the regret felt by the nation for this sad and deplorable event—regret which the states general have been foremost in expressing."

In calling to itself the defender of the state, and the father of his people, Providence decrees that our constancy and our patriotism should be put to a trial.—That Providence which reads the hearts of men knows that our grief is sincere.—Almighty power will deign to watch over the two ancient kingdoms of the north and answer the fervent prayer of the king we now deplore.

Inheriting his love towards you, I pray Heaven to grant me the power to execute all that the tender and generous mind of that great monarch had conceived for your welfare.

The following description of the city of Ronda, in Spain, and of its neighborhood, we think can scarcely fail of being amusing and interesting to our readers:

Among the various things which have attracted my attention in Spain, none have excited so much admiration as the singular situation of this city, the river Guadiaro which encircles it, and the bridges which connect it with its suburbs. It is placed on a rock, with cliffs, either perpendicular and abrupt towards the river, or with broken crags, whose jutting prominences, having a little soil, have been planted with orange and fig trees. A fissure in this rock, of great depth, surrounds the city on three sides and at the bottom of the fissure the river rushes along with impetuous rapidity. Two bridges are constructed over the fissure; the first is a single arch, resting on the rocks on the two sides, the height of which from the water is one hundred and twenty feet. The river descends from this to the second bridge, whilst the rocks on each side as rapidly increase in height; so that from this second bridge to the water, there is the astonishing height of two hundred and eighty feet. The highest town in Spain, Geraida in Seville, or the monument near London Bridge, if they were placed on the water, might stand under this stupendous arch, without their tops reaching it.

The mode of constructing this bridge is no less surprising than the situation in which it is placed, and its extraordinary elevation; it is supported by solid pillars of masonry, built from the bottom of the river, about fifteen feet in thick ness, which are fixed into the solid rock on both sides, and on which the ends of the arch rest; other pillars are built to support these principal ones, which are connected to them by other small arches. A bridge was built on this spot in 1735, but the key-stone not having been properly secured, it fell down in 1741 by which fifty persons were killed. The present bridge was finished in 1774, by Don Joseph Morfin Adela, a celebrated architect of Malaga; and appears so well constructed as to bid defiance almost to time itself.

It is impossible to convey an adequate idea of it: from below it appears suspended in the air; and when upon the bridge, the river below no longer appears a mighty torrent, but resembles a rippling brook. When standing on the bridge, the optical delusion is very singular: the torrent appears to run up a hill towards the bridge, and the same phenomenon takes place when viewed in either direction.

One of the streets of the city is built almost close to the edge of the precipice, and stairs hewn out of the solid rock, which lead to rocks in the lower precipices, in which, though there is very little soil, gardens have been formed, where fig and orange trees grow with considerable luxuriance, and greatly contribute to the beauty of the scenery. From the situation of Ronda on the top of a rock, water is scarce, and stairs are constructed down to the river, by which means the inhabitants are supplied. We descended by one flight of three hundred and fifty steps, and at the bottom found a fine spring, in a large cave, which after turning a mill at its source, contributes to increase the waters of the Guadiaro. From this spot, our view of the lofty bridge was most striking and impressive, and the houses and churches of the city, impending over our heads on both banks, had a most sublime effect. Beyond the bridge the river takes a turn to the right, and passes under the Alameda, from which the precipice of five hundred feet is very bold and abrupt, though interspersed with shrubs and trees. The Alameda of this city is by far the most beautiful walk I have seen in Spain; the paths are paved with marble; the parterres are filled with evergreens; and over the paths, vines are twined on trellises, which, in the warmest weather, afford a grateful shade.

Soon after the Guadiaro quits the rocks of Ronda, it receives the tributary streams of Guadalevi, the Culebras, and the Alcobacero, and passes over the plain with this increase of water, till at one league distant, it is precipitated over some lofty rocks, making a cascade of beauty, and at length received into a cavern, where it is lost to the sight. The entrance to the cavern, which is called Cueva del Gato, is very lofty; and I was informed by those who had explored it, that after advancing about a mile, it extends itself to a large lake, on the banks of which are ruins of an ancient edifice: that beyond the lake, which is of unfathomable depth, the passage made by the water is too small to admit of further discovery; and that sometimes, the difficulty of discharging all the water by this aperture, causes the lake to rise almost to the roof. The termination of this cave is about four miles from its commencement, where the Guadiaro again becomes visible, and continues its course by Algaucine, till it enters the Mediterranean sea.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Warm-destroying Lozenges,
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or going cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebr or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Warm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of

is recommended

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than common pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prevent an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits Jack

Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, &c.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c. &c.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing their root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

For the prevention and cure of

is recommended

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than common pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prevent an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
